Maximum High -

Here as we can see that in year 2022 maximum high is less than that in 2021. And as estimated in 2023 the maximum high is slight less than that in 2022. So for buyers of 2021 of course it was a deal of loss and for buyers of 2020 it was a deal of profit. And as per the forecast for coming year people should not buy as there is slight less maximum high.

Maximum Low -

As per the past recent year trends the maximum low was high. So today it's a mediocre stock that is on the edge of slight profit or slight loss (predicted as per forecast).

Average Volume -

As we can see by recent years trend that number of people buying this stock increases but as per the forecast(estimated data) it became less in coming year as the maximum low was going bit less. So as per me it's a mediocre stock on the urge of slight profit or loss.

Conclusion – I got to learn about tableau, got to learn about drawing different graphs, got to learn about prediction using forecast which can may be useful in future on further exploring. I will explore it more.
